

Chart 4: Finding Evidence

practice it Post-Reading

The Pew Research Report Executive Summary has more facts and figures and new concepts than the other readings in this chapter, so you will need a comprehension check to make sure you understand the material well before you try to analyze it. (You'll find this article on p. 000 of your print book.) Then list the main points and supporting evidence. One student's first entries are below. Discuss your chart with classmates and add any shared examples, facts, or statistics. Add rows to the chart as needed.

| Point the Article Makes | Examples, Statistics, and Evidence Given as Support |
|---|--|
| The housing crash hurt minorities far more than whites. | Median wealth for Hispanics dropped 66 percent, for blacks 53 percent, and only 16 percent for whites. |
