

PRESENTER: In 1902, another dream theorist, Carl Jung, claimed that dreams serve as a hidden door to one's unconscious. And that they can lead us to discover our true personalities in a way that our conscious mind never could.