

10 Thinking Critically

PRE-READING ACTIVITY: You are determined to lose some weight. You talk to a few friends and family members about different weight-loss options. Most options seem to take a long time and require a lot of effort. A friend shows you a magazine ad for a product that promises a weight loss of 30 pounds in 60 days with no diet or exercise. The price seems to be right, and the ad claims that several famous people have lost weight by using this product.
